1998 GRAY MATTER

The 1998 Gray Matter is dedicated to...

Dr. Edward F. Haponik, M.D.

This year, the staff of the Gray Matter is proud to recognize Dr. Ed Haponik for his hard work and dedication to the students of the Wake Forest University School of Medicine.

A native of Fall River, Massachusetts, Dr. Haponik received his undergraduate degree at Providence College in Rhode Island. He first came to the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in 1969 and graduated with his medical degree in 1974. He was elected a member of Alpha Omega Alpha that year. He continued here as a medicine intern and resident and served as Chief Resident in Internal Medicine in 1977-78. He completed his fellowship training in Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine in 1980. He returned to Bowman Gray in 1989 as a Professor in the Department of Internal Medicine, Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine. He now serves as the Clinical Director of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine. His chief clinical interests include sleep apnea, lung cancer, and respiratory burn injuries.

Dr. Haponik's lectures and teaching sessions are a highlight in every medical student's education at Wake Forest. He has entertained hundreds with his unforgettable imitation of lung sounds. None of us will ever confuse "rhonchi" and "rales" after hearing the Haponik version. His combination of wit, charm, and enthusiasm are more than enough to keep even the most sleep-deprived medical student from dozing off in class. In addition to his remarkable talents as a teacher, he has proven himself a true friend and advocate for the students. This year when the senior class was in need of a mentor, Dr. Haponik gladly stepped in and took over, organizing class meetings, social gatherings, and board exam review sessions. He was an invaluable resource for graduating students as they considered residency programs and career choices.

Dr. Haponik and his wife Claire have two sons, Ed and John. Dr. Haponik enjoys going camping with his family, especially in the Western United States. He and his family have been camping in most of the National Parks; in fact, last summer he climbed Half Dome in Yosemite National Park. He also enjoys cruising around town in his 1984 Porsche. His wife says that even though he works very hard for his patients and students, he has always made plenty of time to spend with his children, attending ball games, parent-teacher meetings, and other important events. In his free time he also enjoys playing the piano, a talent which has come in handy for the medical school talent show (below).

The students of Wake Forest University School of Medicine are proud to honor Dr. Ed Haponik for his remarkable dedication, service, and kindness. He serves as an outstanding role model as an educator, clinician, advisor, and friend. His many contributions will live on in a generation of young doctors. We respectfully and gratefully dedicate the 1998 Gray Matter to Dr. Edward F. Haponik, M.D.

n memory of...

Dr. David K. Sundberg, Ph.D.

1945-1997

One of Bowman Gray's most respected and appreciated faculty members, Dr. David K. Sundberg, passed away following a long illness April 11, 1997, at the age of 52. He had taught the physiology and pharmacology of the autonomic nervous system and related drugs to 21 years of medical student classes. He was also very active in educational programs as a member of the medical school admissions committee and graduate school council, as an instructor in NCBH residency programs, a facilitator in the parallel curriculum, and as research advisor to graduate students and post-doctoral fellows.

A native of Seattle, Washington, Dr. Sundberg received a Ph.D. at the University of Texas in Dallas and continued with post-doctoral fellowships at the University of Manchester in England and the University of Rochester, New York, prior to coming to Bowman Gray in 1976. He had an outstanding research career studying the role of neuroendocrine peptides, that resulted in more than 50 papers and book chapters and an equal number of presentations at national and international research meetings. He was a frequent reviewer for prestigious journals in endocrine fields, and also for NIH research grant proposals. Dr. Sundberg had recently received NIH funding to study the effects of alcohol on brain peptides, and was the Bowman Gray representative to the North Carolina Governor's Institute on Alcohol and Substance Abuse.

Dr. Sundberg, in addition to being a great scientist and educator, was a talented artist. He enjoyed working in a number of mediums, including painting, drawing, watercolors, sculpture, stained glass, and etching. His work is among the art collections of many Bowman Gray faculty and friends. Dr. Sundberg brought his artistic approach to teaching as well, with creative and original illustrations in his scholarly research articles and classic textbook chapters. The medical students have shown that they appreciate these efforts with several nominations for teaching awards. In addition to science and visual arts, Dr. Sundberg also enjoyed music. He was an accomplished musician and played piano, violin, guitar, and mandolin. He was known to keep guitars and other instruments in his office to pluck and sing when the mood struck him. He and several members of the BGSM faculty and students have performed in the biannual medical school talent shows.

A fund in memory of Dr. Sundberg is being created to provide support for Bowman Gray students conducting research in the Department of Physiology and Pharmacology. Alumni and friends interested in contributing support to the fund may contact Ms. Anne Garvey at the Development Office at (336) 716-7894.

The end of an era...

1997 marked the end of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

On October 3rd, the Wake Forest board of trustees voted to change the name of the school to the Wake Forest University School of Medicine. The move was made as part of a restructuring plan for the school and medical center. The medical center will now be officially named the Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center. This was done in order to increase recognition of the school's name and emphasize the medical school's union with the university, according to Dr. Richard R. Dean, director of the medical center. For the last 56 years the school has carried the name of Bowman Gray, a former president of R.J. Reynolds tobacco company who donated money to the medical school of Wake Forest College in 1941. His support allowed the medical school to become a four-year school and to move to Winston-Salem from Wake Forest, N.C. The medical school campus will still be named the Bowman Gray campus in recognition of the Gray family. The name change may have caused a few clerical headaches here and there, but overall most feel it will be a positive move for both the medical school and the university. For now, the name on the side of the building still reads "Bowman Gray School of Medicine", but that will surely change. Still, whatever the name, it is one we can all be proud of. The tradition of excellence that was started over 50 years ago will continue for years to come.

...and a new beginning

POST-BOARDS PARTY

AUGUST 27, 1997

MATCH DAY

March 18th, 1998 12:00pm

This is the day all med students dream about for 4 years... Match Day. At exactly 12:00 noon, each senior medical student reaches into his or her mailbox to find a tiny slip of paper which reveals where that student will spend the next three to seven years and often, which specialty that student will practice for the rest of his or her career. All those hours of lost sleep, studying, and hard work finally pay off on this most important day. Most are happy with their fates, a few are a little disappointed, but overall this was a very successful year for WFU School of Medicine graduates.

After the official notification, the senior class, family and friends retreated to the Hawthorne Inn for the traditional post-match party given by the Office of Student Affairs and the Medical Alumni Association. Each senior student announced their match results to the rest of the class, and the celebration got off to a strong start. Then it was off to Chester's for the class party. It's safe to say that a good time was had by all. Congratulations to the class of 1998 on a very successful Match Day!

VISITING STUDENTS

TOKAI UNIVERSITY IN TOKYO, JAPAN

Koichi Kosaka

Daisuke Sakai

Miki Wantanabe

The medical center has student exchange programs with several international institutions. This year, medical students Koichi Kosaka, Daisuke Sakai, and Miki Watanabe visited from Tokai University in Tokyo, Japan. They each spent six months doing clinical elective rotations at North Carolina Baptist Hospital. Wake Forest University senior medical students Ric Pardini, Sean Xie, and Steve Dorsey took the opportunity this year to study at Tokai.

Another exchange program exists between the Wake Forest University School of Medicine and The University of Tromso in Norway. Students who have visited from Tromso include: Tore Eggen, Kjell-Vidar Husnes, Tom Donem, Yngve Bremnes, and Katja Eskeland.

Visitors from Tokai University School of Medicine, physicians Dr. Ogawa and Dr. Shirai and student Miki Watanabe participate in Internal Medicine morning rounds with Dr. Velez.

Dean of the Medical School, Dr. James N. Thompson, presents Koichi Kosaka with a certificate of recognition.

BONE MARROW DRIVE

During the Fall of 1997, Wake Forest University School of Medicine students had the opportunity to participate in our first annual Bone Marrow Drive and Information Seminar. During the seminar, past bone marrow recipients, future recipients, past bone marrow donors, and bone marrow transplant faculty discussed the challenges involved in bone marrow transplant with future physicians giving both a clinical and human perspective. The purpose of this event was to increase physician awareness as well as to increase the number of bone marrow donors.

AWARD FOR TEACHING EXCELLENCE

Awarded by the academic faculty, medical school administration, and student body

Michael R. Lawless, MD

Associate Professor of Pediatrics

As a pediatrics attending at Reynolds Health Center, Dr. Lawless has been an inspirational teacher and role model for many classes of Bowman Gray medical students. His enthusiastic teaching methods, his dedication to his young patients, and his guidance as past Associate Dean of Student Affairs have earned him the respect and admiration of his colleagues and pupils. He is, and will continue to be, a model of clinical knowledge, skill, and integrity. We are proud to honor Dr. Lawless with this Award for Teaching Excellence.

CHARLES B. CLARK MEMORIAL AWARD

for Outstanding Service to the Senior Class

Edward F. Haponik, MD

Professor of Internal Medicine, Pulmonary/Critical Care

Over our four years at Wake Forest University School of Medicine, the class of 1998 has been blessed with myriad of dynamic, intelligent faculty, not the least of whom is Dr. Haponik. Our relationship with this snow-capped Bobby Cremins look-alike crescendoed this year when he assumed the role of our class mentor. His dedication and tireless efforts in this new capacity underscore why he is the quintessential educator. In addition to his erudite pursuits, unparalleled bedside manner, and compassion for peers and students, he has an uplifting sense of humor and refreshing acknowledgement of life beyond medicine. His instruction, compassion, dedication, zest for life, and commitment to people regardless of title has and will continue to serve as the standard to which each of us will compare ourselves in years ahead. Because of this we proudly recognize Dr. Haponik as this year's recipient of the Charles B. Clark Memorial Award.

COLPHOLON

The 1998 Gray Matter was produced by Jostens Publishing, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The cover is embossed, with a linen grain, black over-tone rub over Lexitone Storm, silver foil stamping, and a black and white tip-on. The paper is 80 pound matte paper with black ink, and endsheets are medium-gray with black ink. Seven-hundred and twenty-five copies were produced.

All portraits were taken by the Department of Biomedical Communications of North Carolina Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Please address correspondence to Gray Matter, c/o the Office of Student Affairs, Wake Forest University School of Medicine, Medical Center Boulevard, Winston Salem, North Carolina 27157. Telephone (910) 716-4271.

Thank you to all those who contributed their time and effort to the production of this book. Special thanks to the Office of Student Affairs and the Photography department of Biomedical Communications. Thank you also to Lou Davis, Public Relations Photographer for the Medical Center for many of the photographs in the book.

RICHARD W.
RISSMILLER, JR.

It seems like you just entered Bowman Gray,
For us the years have passed swiftly away.
Through first year your time progressed slowly,
With all the work, you felt so lowly.
The second year your knowledge really soared,
Although you worried so about National Boards.
Third year your rotations proceeded quickly,
Forth year you healed the lame and sickly.
All the while supported by two charming ladies,
Your wife, Patricia, and your dog, Sadie.

You have always made us proud.

Love,
Mom Dad and Katie

DAMIAN LAWRENCE COVINGTON

This is quite a milestone. The roads were often times bumpy, but they all are when the prize is something you want very badly. Your tenacity and perserverance are traits that served you well during the rough rides. Now, one part of the journey is over and you are home safely. We are all so proud of your accomplishments and may God bless and guide you as you pursue your medical career.

Damian,
It is a pleasure and honor for me to say, that it is the ultimate goal and dream of every family to have among its' members,
A MEDICAL DOCTOR;
Guess what! You were the one chosen to fullfill the Covington's dream. You are our hopes and dreams for the future. You are truly a blessing to us, and now you will be a blessing to society.
We humbly share you--

All my love,
Aunt Rachel

Dear Damian,
Congratulations on your achievements thus far.
May God bless you and continue to empower you with the faith, courage, and determination to be the best that you can be. We are so proud of you.
Love, Aunt Eloise

You are a very special person. You have been an inspiration to all of us and we love you dearly.

KEVIN PAUL HANSEN

Dear Kevin,

You have always worked hard to be successful at whatever you've undertaken. Medical school has been no exception.
You have excelled because of your abilities and determination. We could not be more proud! As you go forth in the medical community, you will continue to be successful because of your compassion and desire to help others. Always remember we love you.

We delight in your achievement, applaud your hard work and offer our prayers, love, and support as you continue on. We are very, very proud of you.

Mom.

KEVIN DANIEL LYE

Congratulations,
Dr. Kevin D. Lye!

Our hearts are bursting with joy and pride as you reach this important milestone. We pray that you will always depend on the "Great Physician" for wisdom, guidance, and strength as you extend your healing touch to your patients. Always be sensitive to "His call" while you are "on call". We thank God for you and we are so proud of you. We love you.
Mom & Dad, Brother Jamie.

*Yes, this is Dr. Lye . . .
What? I'm on call today??*

DAMIAN L. COVINGTON

Oh Lord, let my speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that I may always know how to answer every man: as I administer to the infirmities of humanity.
Guide my heart, my hands,
my head as a medical intercessor through thy divine spirit.

Love you, Aunt Doris

DAVID DANIELL HAIGHT

Dear Bug,

"Live for those that love you
Whose hearts are kind and true,
For the God that smiles
above you,
And the good that you can do."

Arthur N. Comes (Great Grandfather)

Remember also that yesterday is history, tomorrow is a mystery, but today is a gift. Use it wisely and you will have no regrets.

You have our love always,
Your family.

ROSANNA CAROL McCONNELL

Doctor Carol,
We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. With God, the Master Doctor, as your guide, we hope that you'll reach all of your goals and dreams.

We love you and know Dad is proud too.

Mom, Chris, Rob, and Stephanie

JONATHAN H. WOODY

Jay, never lose your appreciation of life's small wonders!

We are immensely proud of you. This time we will spring for the Dom Perignon. Wishing you great success now and in the future.

Love, Mom and David

TRACI D. McMILLIAN

Our Little Girl

Dear Traci:

Congratulations!!!

We are very happy that you remembered who you were
and what you were about.

We are very proud of you and wish you health, happiness, and success as you begin your career.

Love you,

HEIDI ANDERSON

A Smile Lights the World

May your smile, warmth, compassion, and laughter bring as much joy, hope, and strength to those who come to be healed by Dr. Heidi as they have to all your family. And may "the three things that last -- faith, hope, and love-- and the greatest of these is love" fill your life forever. With pride, happiness, and much love, we congratulate you and wish you Godspeed always.
You're the greatest!

Dad, Mother, Hal, & Dwight.

HEIDI ANDERSON & PAUL BRANNAN

Two very special people whose lives are united in love and dedication to bring health, comfort, and hope to others -- Jimmy Stewart's "It's A Wonderful Life" is awaiting you! And what a meaningful journey thru life will be yours as you give to each other and all you meet along the way. We congratulate you and celebrate this "Gray Matter" milestone. All our love, Mother and Dad Anderson.

A Toast to your Love, Achievements, and Happiness

ELIZABETH K. BERGHAUSEN

*Dr. Elizabeth K. Berghausen
(It's Official!)*

When this photo ran in the newspaper over one year ago, the caption called you "Doctor." It may have been inaccurate, but it was certainly prophetic. Congratulations. We're proud of the good you will do for children.
Love, Sasha + Sara

AARON C. BROWN

*What do you mean different?
Don't Doctors wear ties?*

Know that there are those that love and understand you and will always be there for you even when you feel alone. Let the teachings of people you admire become part of you. Try not to be too concerned with material things. Instead place value on the goodness in your heart. May God grant you the inner strength to determine your own worth and not depend on others judgement of your accomplishments.

Congratulations! We are so proud.
Mom & Dad.

TOM LOUIS CHERPES

Thank you for teaching us about Madison, WI, book stores, Camus, Winston-Salem, NC, A wonder dog named Argus, steadfast loyalty, Dylan, veggie burgers, and especially for making the journey as important and joyful as the destination. Good Luck on your continued journey.
God Bless you.

Love,
all your family.

CONGRATULATIONS

LANCE POTTER

The Potters

When you were 4, your dad went back to school at Ole Miss. Little did we know what a BIG impression that made on you! You went to Ole Miss for your undergraduate studies, loved it, majored in English . . . ENGLISH?! How does an English major get admitted to med school?! We love you! Mom, Dad, Maria, Leigh & Lin-Z.

CARLIN ANN ALLEYNE

Here's to the woman who expects no more from others than she is willing to give, who meets life's challenges head-on, and gracefully accepts both victories and disappointments.

DAMIAN L. COVINGTON

I am happy to express my wishes for your success to be printed in your Gray Matter Yearbook. You already know that Aunt Lou wishes you the very best in your medical career. You are a great guy and you deserve the best.

I hope that as you save some lives and stamp out some disease and pestilence you will always seek God as your helper. Keep Him foremost in your life and you will find success in everything you do.

I love you -- and I accepted all of your collect calls.

Wishing you Godspeed,
Aunt Lou.

Thank you for your support and guidance.

We will miss you!

Advisor,

Mentor,

Ambassador,

Advocate,

Friend.

You are many things to many people.

You have launched careers of future physicians,

given gentle advice,

given strong advice,

given a shoulder to cry on,

shared a lot of laughter,

shared your lunch,

shared in our joy,

shared in our sorrow,

given a reluctant pupil a gentle shove, sheltered an unprotected soul.

But most of all you have given yourself, wholeheartedly and unreservedly.

And for this we give you a humble
thank you and wish you farewell.

But not goodbye...
